

Monica Coleman is a multi-skilled journalist at ABC10 in Sacramento, specializing in general assignment reporting.

She joined the ABC10 team in December 2019 from Texas, but is no stranger to the West Coast. Born in San Jose and raised in Austin Texas, Monica earned her Multi-Platform Journalism degree from Sam Houston State University, with a minor in political science. While in college, she worked for Bearkat Sports with ESPN3, where she covered Sam Houston State baseball, basketball, and football, conducting post and pre-game interviews and shooting highlights. Monica also interned at two television stations in Houston, KPRC Channel 2 and FOX 26, where she wrote articles for its website and assisted on news stories daily.
